DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.,

3. Claims 1, 2 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gordon (U.S. 2,755,955) in view of Shiotani (U.S. 4,630,745). Gordon teaches a collapsible container having a bottom 10 first and second lengthwise side walls 13 and 14, first and second crosswise sidewalls 11 and 12 and a top end frame 15. The device to secure the crosswise side walls in place is the tab shown at 49 in Figure 4. Gordon does not teach that the container is made of plastic. Shiotani teaches that it is known to make a collapsible container from plastic. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the container of Gordon being made of plastic, as taught by Shiotani, in order to give the container sufficient strength while reducing the overall weight.
4. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gordon (U.S. 2,755,955) in view of Shiotani (U.S. 4,630,745), as applied to claim 2 above, and further in view of Muise, Jr. (U.S. 6,354,487). The modified container of Gordon discloses the claimed invention except tab extending through the top end into a bottom recess in the bottom of a container that is set onto it. Muise, Jr. teaches that it is known to form a side wall with tabs that extend through the top end into a bottom recess in the bottom of a container that is set onto it. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the modified container of Gordon with the tab extending through the top end into a bottom recess in the bottom of a container that is set onto it, as taught by Muise, Jr., in order to prevent lateral movement of one container with respect to another while in a stacked arrangement.

5. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gordon (U.S. 2,755,955) in view of Shiotani (U.S. 4,630,745), as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Inayama (U.S. 4,863,056). The modified container of Gordon discloses the claimed invention except that it has a continuous tab on each wall and not two tabs. Inayama teaches that it is known to form a crosswise side wall with two tabs. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the modified container of Gordon with the continuous tab being replaced by two spaced tabs, as taught by Inayama, in order to use less material when manufacturing the container.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 3, 6-9 and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art is cited for the container structure.

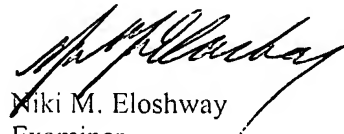

8. THIS ACTION IS NON-FINAL.
